CBOT-mieliepryse het gister laer verhandel namate verbeterde weerstoestande in die Amerikaanse Middeweste verwagtinge vir goeie opbrengste versterk het. Swakker ruoliepryse het ook druk op die mark geplaas deur kommer oor laer bio-brandstofvraag, terwyl 'n sterker Amerikaanse dollar Amerikaanse mielies minder mededingend in die uitvoermark gemaak het. Handelaars het verkoopposisies gister geneem voor die Juneteenth-langnaweek.

CBOT corn prices traded lower yesterday as improved weather conditions in the U.S. Midwest strengthened expectations for good yields. Weaker crude oil prices also placed pressure on the market due to concerns about lower biofuel demand, while a stronger U.S. dollar made U.S. corn less competitive in the export market. Traders also took selling positions yesterday ahead of the Juneteenth long weekend.

CBOT Kansas City HRW-koringpryse het gister laer verhandel namate gunstige weerstoestande in dele van die Amerikaanse vlaktes die vooruitsigte vir die nuwe oes verbeter het. Groot wêreldwye koringvoorrade en swak vraag na Amerikaanse koringuitvoere het verdere druk op die mark geplaas, terwyl sommige handelaars hul posisies aangepas het voor die Juneteenth-langnaweek.

CBOT Kansas City HRW wheat prices traded lower yesterday as favourable weather conditions in parts of the U.S. Plains improved prospects for the new crop. Large global wheat supplies and weak demand for U.S. wheat exports added further pressure to the market, while some traders adjusted their positions ahead of the Juneteenth long weekend.
